

BONUS ENGULFS US IN DEBT, VETO MESSAGE SAYS

adjournment tomorrow, indications are that several days' battle will take place before a final showdown is reached.

Both sides are summoning absentees to return and are arranging plans for the anti-veto fight which will be held in the city.

It became known today that Senator McKelvey (Ill.), who is now in Europe, will be paired against the bonus and in favor of sustaining the veto. He previously was paired in favor of the bonus. His switch, along with one or two others reported, would give the anti-veto faction the necessary margin to sustain the President's veto.

THE PRESIDENT'S VETO

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—President Harding's bonus veto message follows:

"To the House of Representatives: Herewith is returned without approval H. R. 10874, a bill to provide adjusted compensation for the veterans of the world war and for their dependents. With the avowed purpose of the bill to give expression of a nation's gratitude to those who served in its defense in the world war I am in accord, but to its provisions I do not subscribe. The United States never will cease to be grateful; it cannot and never will cease giving expression to that gratitude.

"In legislating for what is called adjusted compensation congress failed, first of all, to provide the revenue from which the bestowal is to be paid. Moreover, it establishes the very dangerous precedent of creating a treasury covenant to pay which puts a burden variously estimated between four and five billions upon the American people, not to discharge an obligation which the government always must pay, but to bestow a bonus which the soldiers themselves while serving in the world war did not expect.

"It is not to be denied that the nation has certain very binding obligations to those of its defenders who made real sacrifices in the world war and who left the armies injured, disabled, or diseased so that they could not resume their places in the normal activities of life. These obligations are being gladly and generously met.

Caring for the Disabled.

"Perhaps there are here and there inefficiencies and injustices and some distressing instances of neglect, but they are all unintentional, and every energy is being directed to their earliest possible correction.

"In meeting this obligation there is no complaint about the heavy cost. In the current fiscal year we are expending $510,000,000 on hospitalization and care of sick and wounded, on compensation and vocational training for the disabled, and for insurance. The figures do not include the more than $25,000,000 in process of expenditure on hospital construction.

"The estimates for the year to follow are approximately $475,000,000, and the figures may need to be made larger. Though the peak in hospitalization may have passed, there is a growth in demobilization and the discharge in full of our obligations to the disabled, disabled, or dependent who have a right to the government's care, with insurance liability added, which will probably reach a total sum in excess of $25,000,000,000.

Other Sources of Expense.

"More than 99,000 veterans are now enrolled in some of the 445 different courses in vocational training. Fifty-four thousand of them are in schools or colleges, more than 28,000 are in industrial establishments, and a few more than 6,000 are being trained in schools operated by the veterans bureau.

"Approximately 12,000 have completed their courses and have employment in all cases where they desire it, and 63,000 have deferred for the present time their acceptance of training. The number eligible under the law may reach close to 400,000 and facilities will continue to be afforded, unimpaired of the necessary cost, until every obligation is fulfilled.

"Two hundred and seventy-six thousand patients have been hospitalized, more than 250,000 discharged, and 25,678 patients are in our hospitals today.

"Four hundred and sixteen thousand awards of compensation have been made on account of death or disability and $400,000,000 have been paid to disabled men or their dependent relatives. One hundred and twenty-five thousand disabled ex-service men are now receiving compensation along with medical or hospital care where needed and a quarter of a million checks go out monthly in distributing the $3,000,000 payment on indisputable obligations.

"I recite the figures to remind the congress how generously and how properly it has opened the treasury doors to discharge the obligations of the nation to those to whom it indisputably owes compensation and care.

"Though undying gratitude is the meed of every one who served, it is not to be said that a material bestowal is an obligation to those who emerged from the great conflict not only unharmed, but physically, mentally, and spiritually richer for the great experience. If an obligation were to be admitted, it would be to charge the adjusted compensation bill with inadequacy and stinginess wholly unbecoming our republic. Such a bestowal, to be worth while, must be generous and without apology.

"Clearly, the bill returned herewith takes cognizance of the inability of the government wisely to bestow and, in substitution, we do not have the cash, we do not believe in a tax levy to meet the situation, but here is our note, you may have our credit for half its worth. This is not compensation, but rather a pledge by the congress, while the executive branch of the government is left to provide for payments falling due in ever increasing amounts.

Recalls Sales Tax Plan.

"When the bill was under consideration in the house I expressed the conviction that any grant of bonus ought to provide the means of paying it, and I was unable to suggest any plan other than that of a general sales tax. Such a plan was unacceptable to the congress, and the bill has been enacted without even a suggested means of meeting the cost.

"Indeed, the cost is not definitely known, either for the immediate future or in the ultimate settlement. The treasury estimates, based on what seems the most likely exercise of the options, figures the direct cost at approximately $145,000,000 for 1923, $225,000,000 for 1924, $114,000,000 for 1925, $112,000,000 for 1926, making a total of $596,000,000 for the first four years of its operation, and a total cost in excess of $4,000,000,000.

Warns of Ultimate Cost.

"No estimate of the large indirect cost ever had been made. The certificate plan sets up no reserve against the ultimate liability. The plan avoids any considerable direct outlay by the government during the earlier years of the bill's proposed operations, but the loans on the certificate would be based on the credit of the nation. This is borrowing on the nation's credit just as truly as though the loans were made by direct government borrowing and involve a dangerous abuse of public credit. Moreover, the certificate plan of payment is little less than certified inability of the government to pay and invites a practice of sacrificial barter which I cannot sanction.

"It is worth remembering that the public credit is founded on the popular belief in the defensibility of public expenditure, as well as the government's ability to pay. Loans come from every rank in life, and our heavy tax burdens reach, directly or indirectly, every element in our citizenship. To add one-sixth of the total sum of our public debt for distribution among less than 5,000,000 out of 110,000,000, whether inspired by grateful sentiment or political expediency, would undermine the confidence on which our credit is built, and established the precedent of distributing public funds whenever the proposals and the numbers affected make it seem politically appealing to do so.

"Congress clearly appraised the danger of borrowing directly to finance a bestowal which is without obligation and manifestly recognized the financial problems with which the nation is confronted. Our maturing promises to pay within the current fiscal year amount to approximately $4,000,000,000, most of which will have to be refunded. Within the next five years more than $10,000,000,000 of debt will mature and will have to be refinanced.

"These outstanding and maturing obligations are difficult enough to meet without the complication of added borrowings, every one of which threatens higher interest and delays the adjustment to stable government financing and the diminution of federal taxes to defensible cost of government.

"Reverses Policy of Service."

"It is sometimes thoughtlessly urged that it is a simple thing for the rich republic to add $4,000,000,000 to its indebtedness. This impression comes from the readiness of the public response to the government's appeal for funds amidst the stress of war. It is to be remembered that in the war everybody was ready to give his all. Let us not recall the comparatively few exceptions. Citizens of every degree of competence loaned and sacrificed, precisely in the same spirit that our armed forces went out for service. The war spirit impelled. To a war necessity there was but one answer, but a peace bestowal on the ex-service men, as though the supreme suffering could be paid for with cash, is a perversion of public funds, a reversal of the policy which exalted public service in the past and suggests that future defense is to be inspired by future compensation, rather than consciousness of duty to flag and country.

"The pressing problem of the government is that of diminishing our burdens, rather than adding thereto. It is the problem of the world. War inflations and war expenditures have unbalanced budgets and added to indebtedness until the whole world is staggering under the load.

Would Halt War Recovery.

"We have been driving in every direction to curtail our expenditures and establish economies without impairing the essentials of governmental activities. It has been a difficult and unpopular task. It is vastly more applauded to expend than to deny. After nearly a year and a quarter of insistence and persuasion, with a concerted drive to reduce government expenditure in every quarter possible, it would wipe out everything thus far accomplished to add now this proposed burden, and it would rend the commitment of economy and saving so essential to our future welfare.

"The financial problems of the government are too little heeded until we are face to face with a great emergency. The diminishing income of the government, due to the receding tides of business and attending incomes, has been overlooked momentarily, but cannot be long ignored. The latest budget figures for the current fiscal year show an estimated deficit of more than $650,000,000 and a further deficit for the year succeeding, even after counting upon all interest collections on foreign indebtedness which the government is likely to receive.

"To add to our pledges to pay except as necessity compels must seem no less than governmental folly. It is a policy which means increased taxation, which congress was unwilling to levy for the purpose of this bill, and will turn us from the course toward economy so essential to promote the activities which contribute to common welfare.

Nation Did Not Demand Reward.

"It is to be remembered that the United States played no self-seeking part in the world war and pursued an unselfish policy after the cause was won. We demanded no reparation for the cost involved, no payments out of which obligations to our soldiers could be met. I have not magnified the willing outlay in behalf of those to whom we have a sacred obligation. It is essential to remember that a more than four billion dollar pledge to the able bodied ex-service men now will not diminish the later obligations which will have to be met when the younger veterans of today shall contribute to the rolls of the aged, indigent and dependent. It is as inevitable as that the years will pass that pension provision for world war veterans will be made, as it has been made for those who served in previous wars.

Pensions to Come Later.

"It will cost more billions than I venture to suggest. There will be justification when the need is apparent, rather than adding thereto. It is necessary to make the nation ready for the expenditure which is certain to be required in the coming years. The contemplation of such a policy is in accord with the established practice of the nation, and puts the service men of the world war on the same plane as the millions of men who fought the previous battles of the republic.

"I confess a regret that I must sound a note of disappointment to the many ex-service men who have the impression that it is as simple a matter for the government to bestow billions in peace as it was to spend billions in war.

"I regret to stand between them and the pitifully small compensation proposed. I dislike to be out of accord with the majority of congress which has voted the bestowal. The simple truth is that this bill proposes a government obligation of more than four billions without a provision of funds for the extraordinary expenditure, which the executive branch of the government must finance in the face of difficult financial problems, and the complete defeat of our commitment to effect economies.

"I would rather appeal, therefore, to the candid reflections of congress and the country and to the ex-service men in particular as to the course better suited to further the welfare of our country. Those ex-soldiers who served so gallantly in war, and who are to be so conspicuous in the progress of the republic in the half century before us, must know that nations can only survive where taxation is restrained from the limits of oppression, where the public treasury is locked against class legislation, but ever open to public necessity and prepared to meet all essential obligations.

"Such a policy makes a better country for which to fight, or to have fought, for, and affords a surer abiding place in which to live and attain."

WARREN G. HARDING.

convinced Mr. Lloyd George that he made a diplomatic blunder.

Turk Gives Pledge to France.

European diplomats and people are not blinded, however, to the pathetic picture of small allied contingents being withdrawn or forced back across the straits by the raising of the crescent. France withdrew its troops from Chanak upon assurances from Ankara that the Turks would respect all positions held by the allies in the neutral zone on the Asiatic side. Ankara insists, however, that one of the fruits of the recent victories shall be the occupation of those positions in the neutral zone from which the Greeks were driven, even though they are side by side with the allied positions.

Chanak is opposite to Gallipoli and dominates the straits from the Asiatic side. Part of it has been held by British and French troops under the Sevres treaty for more than two years, the other part being held by the Greeks. A British naval detachment has been digging in at Chanak for two days, supported by British warships.

France Friend of All.

In the conference tomorrow France will hold the key position by reason of her comparative disinterestedness, and also by her friendship for all parties. France is not only on friendly terms with the Turks, but is the inspirational mother of the little entente, whose interests, particularly Roumania, and Jugoslavia, are opposed to Turkish occupation of Thrace, which might bring Turkey into such an alignment with Bulgaria as to upset the present status of the Balkans.

At the same time, France must depend on England for support in the reparations problem, and it may well be that a free hand with Germany will be the price of her assistance in making it possible for the British to withdraw from their war threat without loss of dignity.

French diplomats are hoping that more than three years of French pressure against the British policies in the near east will eventually force Great Britain to support France in dealing with Germany, although the French reparations policy is daily becoming more moderate.

What Kemal Promises.

(Copyright: 1922: By the New York Times.) PARIS, Sept. 19.—The French government has received from Mustafa Kemal a message saying that pending a peace conference he will not attack the allied neutral zone along the straits nor Constantinople on the understanding that England, France and Italy will assure him the Turks will be given eastern Thrace up to the Maritza river, including Adrianople and, of course, Constantinople.

Kemal promises to consent to any "reasonable" assurance for the freedom of the straits and to an international commission or control, sitting preferably at Gallipoli instead of Constantinople. He assures the French there will be no hostile act pending the allies' reply to his proposal.

This proposition will be placed before Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, when he meets Premier Poincaré tomorrow morning.

SEE CRISIS PASSING

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.) LONDON, Sept. 19.—The near eastern crisis was closer to a settlement today and it is now believed there will be little difficulty in coming to an arrangement satisfactory to all parties in the controversy except, perhaps, the Greeks.

News was received in London today, though it is not officially confirmed, that Mustafa Kemal Pasha has informed the allied high commissioners that he has no intention of crossing the straits, attacking Constantinople, or advancing into Thrace. He also is said to be willing, pending a conference, to refrain from attacking places held by the allies under the treaty of Sevres, which, however, he refuses to recognize. He reserves the right to occupy all territory in Asia held by the Greeks, whom he has defeated in battle.

This declaration, if confirmed and lived up to, will be satisfactory to the British, and it is even said they would not oppose his advance to the Asiatic shore provided he refrains from crossing to Europe.

Prepare to Reinforce Straits.

The cabinet met again this morning and completed arrangements for reinforcing the Dardanelles if it becomes necessary.

Lord Curzon left London this afternoon for Paris to confer with Premier Poincaré, and it is reported that he is hopeful of calming French opinion and convincing French politicians of the desirability of bringing pressure to bear on Kemal to adopt a reasonable attitude. No doubt is felt in London about the ability of the French to bring Kemal into line.

The Jugoslav foreign minister, who arrived in London late last night, dined with Mr. Lloyd George, Lord Curzon, and Winston Churchill today. It is said he conveyed to the British ministers the assurance that the little entente is ranged with the British in resisting the return of the Turks to Thrace.

All Due to Politics.

Now that the crisis seems approaching an end it is clear that it was due to conflicting British and French policies, which also appeared at the Washington disarmament conference. Great Britain is disquieted by the French military hegemony on the continent through its great army and control of the armies of Poland and the little entente.

France is frightened at the British control of the seas. It is evident that a free, unfortified Dardanelles would mean a predominant British fleet, while the Dardanelles in Turkish hands would be fortified on land and controlled by France.

The Turk and Greek are mere pawns in a bigger game and both will probably suffer from the greater nations compose their differences, as now seems the case. On the whole, Great Britain seems to have won in the diplomatic game. By a show of force she frightened the Turks and partly detached the little entente from France. The French and Poles were scared by the threat of Russian intervention, which, on the whole, was advantageous to Great Britain.

MASONS OF MANY NATIONS JOIN IN PEACE CRUSADE

Cleveland, O., Sept. 19.—A crusade for world peace in cooperation with Masonic jurisdictions of the United States and twenty other supreme councils of Europe, South America, and Africa was outlined here today by Sovereign Grand Commander Leon M. Abbott in his allocution delivered at the opening of the supreme council of the northern Masonic jurisdiction, United States of America, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite.

Emphasis was placed by Commander Abbott on the danger of anarchy and bolshevism and the value of the spiritual life.

Mr. Abbott reported 19,572 Masons took the thirty-second degree in the northern Masonic jurisdiction during the last year, increasing the total to 218,291. Fourteenth degree Masons in this jurisdiction totaled 230,794. Mr. Abbott declared:

A letter from President Harding expressing regret at his inability to be present tonight to receive his thirty-third degree was also read by Mr. Abbott.

A gift of $25,000 to several hundred former service men who are Masons was announced by Commander Abbott and approved by the supreme council today.

Why is it that Mustafa Kemal, daring Turk leader, during the recent military exploits, might about an international Europe?

"Ah! Caution," was the exclamation of James M. Fitzgerald, expert promoter and character analyst after glancing a moment at the photograph of Kemal showing a Turk clad as an ordinary man. "That sounds contradictory," usually expect whirling dervishes, a man dubbed "cautious," a man who, reinforced with accompanying qualities, is the most violently dangerous man imaginable," explained the chronicler.

Note the extraordinary features of this man's skull, directed ears. That's the seat of abundant share.

Possession of unusual caution in a case means that, when made up, he acts fearfully. He declared that he feared to suffer materially unless he had the most violently dangerous man imaginable, explained the chronicler.

We note an unusual wide base of the skull to the chin. This shows will and Has Will and Ambition.

We see the eyes set far apart, looking forward just above the nose. This denotes keen powers of observation, remembering what he sees. The top of the ears set well up, rim of the eyes, as his destructive propensities. The Pasha is not merely a man of letters, but a man of action. His lofty forehead possesses good generalship. He is to think, plan, and act.

Science Explains Success
A well rounded chin shows a man of his own people, a kind of quality.

The casual observer, glancing at the photograph taken in a European dress, is not especially impressed. Why, he looks just like a lawyer, or a preacher, or a politician. But when we enter the reasoning of science to the case we readily see why, causing such a furor, in the possession of qualities which entitle him to rank far above the average. Mental powers are strangely those of those of the Caucasians. He would have forged to the front had he been of any nationality than his own.

WAMP OF CAUTION DOWN FOR KEMAL, SAYS SCIENTIST

Chronologist Reads Turk

Why is it that Mustafa Kemal, during Turk leader, dubbed the "savior of Turkey," has through his recent military exploits all but brought about an international crisis in Europe?

"All caution," was the answer of Dr. James M. Fitzgerald, expert physiologist and character analyst, yesterday after glancing a moment at a photograph of Kemal showing the zeal of the Turk chief as an ordinary American would sound contradictory. We usually expect whirlwind action from a man dubbed "cautious." But extreme caution, reinforced with certain accompanying qualities, invariably produces the most violently desperate action imaginable," explained the doctor.

Caution Bumps Out Ears.
"Now the extraordinary protuberance of this man's skull directly above the ears. That's the seat of caution, and a glance proves the Pasha has an abundant share."

"Possession of unusual caution in this man's case means that, when his mind is made up, he acts fearlessly. He has declared that he feared his nation would suffer materially unless he threw his entire strength against her enemies. Thus we see him fighting, coldly, calmly, fearlessly."

"Note the liberal breadth of jaw, the high cheek bones. That's where he gets his courage, and he is not lacking in that quality."

"We note an unusual width from the base of the skull to the tip of the nose. This shows will and ambition. He will and ambition."

"We see the eyes set far apart, a large forehead just above the brows. This denotes keen powers of observation and a memory of what he observes. Very little escapes his blue eyes."

"The top of the ears set well below the rim of the eyes. This indicates his destructive propensities. The Pasha is not merely a man of intellect. His lofty forehead indicates a measure of good generalship. He is able to think, plan, and deliberate before acting."

Science Explains Success.
"A well rounded chin shows his sexiness. This quality explains his devotion to his own people, a kind of tribal loyalty."

"The casual observer, glancing at the photograph taken in ordinary civilian dress, is not especially impressed. 'Why, he looks just like any lawyer, or preacher,' is exclaimed. But when we employ the measuring of science to this countenance we readily see why this man is causing such a furore in Europe. 'His features qualities which in some ways entitle him to rank intellectually far above the average Turk. His mental powers are strangely suggestive of those of the Caucasian. He would have forged to the front as a leader had he been of any other nationality than his own.'"

WILL THE WAR KETTLE BOIL OVER?

1—France has withdrawn her troops, leaving England alone along the Dardanelles to face the Turks. France has favored Turkey for some time and is reported to be considering renouncing a defensive treaty with Russia. British forces continue to arrive at Constantinople.

2—Mustapha Kemal is drawing up his army opposite Constantinople. One report says he has issued a six days' ultimatum to the British to get out.

3—Gen. Broussiloff has a Russian army drawn up on the Roumanian border, ready to launch a drive into the Balkans to aid Kemal. Fighting between the Russians and Roumanians is continuing.

RUSSIA BACKS TURK DEMANDS AGAINST ALLIES

Wants Open Gate to Black Sea.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright: 1922: The Chicago Tribune.]
MOSCOW, Sept. 19.—Russia will not recognize any disposition of the Dardanelles, nor any arrangements to partition lands bordering the Black sea by Great Britain and the other allies. This the Russian foreign office informed The Associated Press today. The statement followed the lines of M. Tchitcherine's speech during the Geneva conference and emphatically backs up all his pronouncements of Russian policy.

According to the foreign office, Russia desires representation at the proposed Turco-Greek conference not only from Moscow but of Georgia and other nations whose territory must be affected by the settlement. Russia insists that participation of all the Black sea nations in such a conference is necessary if a valid treaty which will establish peace in the near east is to be obtained.

Denies Military Alliance.
The Russian policy backs up every Turkish claim against Greece and the allies in so far as they concern the Turkish nationalistic boundaries. This policy is based upon the Russo-Turkish treaty and the treaty Russia forced between Turkey, Armenia, Georgia, and Azerbaijan.
However, the foreign office denies a Russo-Turkish military defensive or offensive alliance. It admits the signing with Turkey of a peace and trade treaty similar to the Rapallo pact with Germany. That Russia morally backs Mustapha Kemal Pasha is no secret. A government telegram has been sent congratulating Mustapha Kemal Pasha upon his victory over the Greeks, while the government organs continue to express satisfaction and the hope that Turkey will obtain all territories wherein the majority of inhabitants are Turkish, whether these territories are at present under Greek, French, or British rule.

4—Red troops have arrived at Trebizond by forced marches.

5—The Bolsheviks are establishing a base at Tiflis for a war alliance with the Turks.

6—Russian warships are hurrying to the eastern end of the Black sea.

7—Russian troops have been ordered to proceed from Samara to the Caucasus.

8—If a new war breaks out Hungary is thinking of attacking Roumania to win back Transylvania. This would automatically involve Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, Roumania's allies.

There is a growing belief that Gen. Pella, the French high commissioner, who is conferring with Kemal Pasha at Smyrna, has convinced the Turkish leader of the unwisdom of an attempt on the Dardanelles because of the world-wide reaction such a move would cause and the injudicious exposure of his own army. In other usually well informed circles, however, fear is expressed that the Kemalists, intoxicated with victory, will shortly deliver an ultimatum to the allies demanding the evacuation of Constantinople and Thrace.

All the Turkish newspaper are indulging in unprecedented exultation over the Nationalist victories. Today's Evrak, Kemal Pasha's personal organ prints a large figure of the Nationalist leader surveying fields of Greek dead, while birds of prey devour the bodies. The illustration is captioned: "Our Glorious Commander-in-Chief Viewing the Fields on Which 100,000 of the Enemy Have Fallen."

KEMAL STUDIES EUROPE'S MOVES ON NEAR EAST

Calls Rome Envoy; Sees
French General.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright: 1922: The Chicago Tribune.]
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 19.—Fetho Bey, representative at Rome of the Turkish Nationalist government, was recalled today to Smyrna by Mustapha Kemal Pasha to report the progress in Europe and the results of his conversations with Foreign Minister Schanzer of Italy, in attempting to secure Italian backing of Turkey in a peace conference. It is significant that Gen. Pella, the French high commissioner, will probably remain in Smyrna until M. Peth's arrival. Meanwhile the sublime paper declares the Turco-Greek conference will be called immediately and that the Italian and French viewpoints are in accord and probably will prevail.

Hope for Amicable Settlement.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 19.—(By The Associated Press.)—The French and Italian military authorities here express the opinion that the conference between the Kemalists and the allies may result in an amicable agreement on the inviolability of the straits and render military action unnecessary.

There is a growing belief that Gen. Pella, the French high commissioner, who is conferring with Kemal Pasha at Smyrna, has convinced the Turkish leader of the unwisdom of an attempt on the Dardanelles because of the world-wide reaction such a move would cause and the injudicious exposure of his own army. WATCH RUSSIAN ARMY

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—Allied intelligence officers have redoubled their efforts to get information on the strength and the places of concentration of the Russian army. Agents from Roumania confirmed reports today that the sovlets have been concentrating more troops on the Bessarabian front. The Germans are bitterly condemning the Russian suggestion for a new alliance with France, not only because they regard it as a betrayal of friendship, but because it gives France another talking point to induce England to "sell out" Germany for French concessions in the near east.

Australia Will Back No Greek Schemes—Hughes

MELBOURNE, Sept. 19.—Prime Minister Hughes and the house of representatives today indicated that immediate enlistment for service in the near east is unnecessary. Mr. Hughes said: "While Australia is willing to stand side by side with Great Britain, she will not participate in any expedition to support the ambitions of the Greeks. The Australian objective is limited to the preservation of the freedom of the Dardanelles."

HIGH COURT WRIT FREES COCHRANE IN SCHOOLS QUIZ

Robert Cochrane, private detective, jailed for refusal to tell who employed a "grand juror" in the school board inquiry, was released yesterday on a writ by the Supreme court. On being informed of the previous release of Joseph Spain and Charles Driscoll, officials of the school engineers' union, also jailed for refusal to testify, the grand jury issued subpoenas for the two, but learned they are out of town. Spain's attorney said he will invoke the aid of the federal court to prevent the grand jury from again asking them to whom they paid graft. Their refusal to answer might result in another jail sentence, so they will remain out of the court's jurisdiction, the lawyer said.

William L. Corrie, whose court reporting agency has taken shorthand notes of all the grand jury testimony, was supplanted yesterday by another agency when the jury learned that until recently he had been a partner of one of the men indicted.

WEDDING BELLS TO END FORMER KAISER'S HOPES

Marriage to Cost Him
Monarchist Backers.

BY CYRIL BROWN.

(Copyright, 1922, by the New York Times.)
BERLIN, Sept. 19.—The ex-kaiser's decision to marry is a political event of importance. It has lost him the last remnants of personal popularity in Germany and given him a black eye with the staunchest Legitimists. The blind of royalists today say that William Hohenzollern never will or can come back.

More particularly has the ex-kaiser fallen from grace in the eyes of the majority of German women, who are even more ardent monarchists than the male reactionaries, and in those of the bulk of the monarchist-minded of Germany. These votaries of kaiserism feel that he is not only untrue to the memory of the dead kaiser, but untrue to their ideal of a kaiser.

Press Makes Excuses.

The reactionary press betrays considerable embarrassment and tries to let the ex-kaiser down easy by telling its readers that while the first feeling of resentment is quite natural, still his loneliness and temperament are extenuating circumstances. The Prussische Kreuz Zeitung, which on the outbreak of the revolution removed the iron cross emblem, "With God for King and Fatherland," from the head of the paper, but recently restored them, comments briefly with this Irish bull: "May the woman's hand which in future will stand at the head of the Doorn household help the kaiser over his heavy hours of banishment."

Plans for ex-Kaiser.

The ultra-monarchistic press is chiefly anxious in seeking to prevent the coming marriage from doing permanent harm to the monarchist idea in Germany. The agrarian junker organ argues: "Let those inclined to criticize reflect that after all the kaiser has the same right in affairs of the heart and humanity as every other man, and that it would be particularly unjust and harsh to deny this last remnant of right to the man forced to bear the heavy fate of banishment." Among the less "hard boiled" reactionaries there is no grudging the ex-kaiser a second wife. "There is even approval and satisfaction that it definitely and finally eliminates him as a political factor."

Hopes for Wilhelm's Peace.

The Cologne Gazette says: "The kaiser's fellow countrymen, regardless of their political verdict regarding his person, character, and actions, will wish he may find in his new marriage what he hopes—a quiet, happy evening of his life." The Industrieller Rheinisch-Westphalian Gazette remarks: "Viewed politically, one must draw the conclusion from the kaiser's decision to marry that he has finally and forever given up all hope of returning to the throne, for which one can only congratulate him."

ROMANCE OF LATIN QUARTIER CRASHES FOR C. L. DALRYMPLE

Artistic temperament, coupled with an uncontrollable temper, are charged to Clifford Louis Dalrymple, well known artist, in a suit for divorce filed yesterday by his sculptress wife, Mrs. Leonore Dalrymple.

MRS. LEONORE DALRYMPLE.
(TRIBUNE Photo.)

In her bill, filed by Attorney M. J. McDonough, Mrs. Dalrymple traces a romance which began when both were students in the Latin Quarter of Paris and where they were married on May 29, 1919.

Returning to Chicago, immediately after the marriage, Dalrymple took a studio apartment at 4953 Blackstone avenue, where they lived until Dec. 20, 1921, when Mrs. Dalrymple asserts she was driven from the home.

While posing as a model for Dalrymple, the bill continues, Mrs. Dalrymple grew faint. Enraged at the interruption, she charges, he hurled paint and brushes at her. At another time, the bill says, he threw his wife into a bath tub "with great force" because his bath had been allowed to cool.

Dalrymple is a son of Charles R. Dalrymple, assistant secretary of the Chicago Title and Trust company.

NEW TARIFF ACT BECOMES LAW AT TWELVE TONIGHT

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The Fordney-McCumber tariff bill will become law at 12 o'clock tomorrow night.

The senate by a vote of 43 to 28 to day approved the conference report, and if there had not been an unexpected complication in connection with a minor correction in the engrossed copy of the bill it would have been taken to the President tonight and the new duties would have become effective at midnight.

The bill will be signed by the speaker of the house and the president of the senate tomorrow at noon immediately after the two houses convene. It will reach the President early in the afternoon and the understanding is he will sign it at once. The bill provides that the new duties shall become effective the day following its enactment into law.

Day of Grace for Importers.

Importers who are making eleventh hour efforts to gear their goods through the customs house before the new law becomes effective will have a final day of grace.

Five Republicans voted against the conference report. They were Senators Borah (Idaho), Cameron (Ark.), Cummins (Ia.), and Lenroot and La Follette (Wis.). It was announced that Senator Norris (Neb.) also would have voted against it if he had been present. Senator Borah voted against the bill at the time of its passage in the senate and Senator La Follette would have voted against it at that time if he had been present. Senator Cameron voted in the negative to show his displeasure over the failure of the conference to retain the senate duty on long staple cotton.

Why Cummins Opposed Bill.

Senator Cummins has expressed himself as believing that there should have been no general tariff revision at this time because of chaotic conditions and that some of the duties in the bill are too high. Senator Lenroot voted for the bill originally but served notice at that time that he would vote against the conference report unless some of the duties, such as those on cutlery, were not greatly reduced.

Two Democrats, Senators Broussard and Randall (La.), voted for the bill. During the final debate on the measure its provisions were defended by Senator Smoot (Utah), Republican, and assailed by Senators Underwood (Ala.) and Harrison (Miss.), Democrats.

Senator Smoot, in defending the bill, expressed regret that it will not be on the statute books long enough to prove its value to the American people in advance of the November election.

Sees Boom to Industry.

"We have no hesitancy in going before the people with this measure," said Senator Smoot. "The only trouble is that it will not be in effect long enough to demonstrate to the people that it will bring prosperity. If this bill had become law six or eight months ago I have no doubt that every wheel in the factories in all parts of the country would now be humming and laboring men would be assured wages higher than in other countries."

Senator Underwood denounced the bill in unflattering terms. "You propose to put a tax on for the benefit of special interests that in most cases more than doubles the existing rates," said Senator Underwood. "The rates in the bill are higher than in the Dingley bill and higher than in the Payne-Aldrich bill, which the American people repudiated."

John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee, issued a statement tonight, praising the measure.

Adams View of New Act.

"The enactment of a permanent protective tariff marks the beginning of another era of good times in the United States," he said. "It guarantees to employer and employee alike, security from destructive foreign competition."

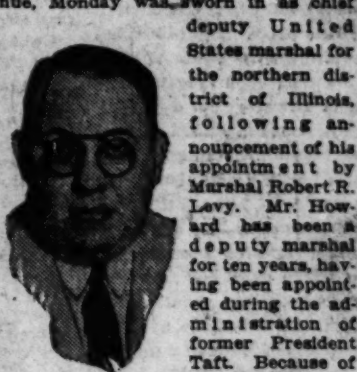

"The newly enacted tariff law, like all protective tariff laws, has met with denunciation and misrepresentation. There never has been a protective tariff enacted which the opposition did not characterize as a 'robber' tariff. There never has been a protective tariff enacted that opposition did not brand it as the 'most iniquitous.' Yet there never has been a protective tariff that did not bring good times in the form of steady employment and good wages to the workers."

Richness and Beauty of Autumn are Reflected Throughout the Entire Store

Babies' Frocks

Winsome, new modes these. On frocks of velveteen, long ribbons trace patterns like embroidery. These are $13.75. Wool jersey frocks with hand-work, $9.75.

Coats, Caps, Leggings in Sets

Very often these smart affairs are trimmed with fur. One is sketched. This is of Bolivia cloth with nutria. The prices are as follows: Coat $32.50, leggings $10.75, hat $10.75.

Third Floor, North.

Autumn Hats

Our workrooms have caught the very spirit of the ateliers of Paris and expressed it in the hats in certain delightful groups.

At $20, $22.50, $25

Sable brown, and a glowing shade of purple, ostrich used in flattering new touches, metal embroidery and silver flowers are details in which one reads in these hats the fascinating way of the new mode.

Fifth Floor, South.

Coats, Wraps, Capes

Elaborate stitchery is often used to simulate brocade. Coats of the richer fabrics accent a draped silhouette with the immense width of the embroidered sleeve. Many have almost as much fur as fabric. Prices vary from $55 to $450.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

Bordered Wool Skirts

Colorful fabrics give the new skirts unusual dash and smartness. Circular skirts and wrapped skirts are the "features" of this season. $11.50 to $35. The skirt sketched is in brown imported fabric with a figured border.

Fourth Floor, North

Charming Blouses

To them falls the delightful task of providing color accent. For the new blouses are vivid—brilliant with embroidery or beading, strikingly patterned. Blouses of quite another type are of rich-toned real laces posed over chiffon.

An Interesting Group at $13.50

In a group at $13.50 are certain smart blouses banded in contrasting color, beaded with wooden beads. One is sketched directly above.

AUTUMN OPENING

Places especial emphasis upon these Mid-week Presentations

THESE are delightful days here. Each day brings something refreshingly new into prominence. So complete, so skilfully assembled are the displays presented that the Autumn Opening of 1922 can well be said to sound the fashion dictates for the entire season,—giving wide latitude for personal preference in selection, with no sacrifice in the dominant mode-themes.

The Ways of the New Fall Fashions in Frocks

Whether the silhouette is classic or bouffant, it has, most often, charming accent in colorful embroidery, or the sparkle of beads. Much vogue is assured a soft, lovely shade of gray. Collars of cream-toned lace are a flattering new note, particularly lovely on frocks of velvet. Many designers favor fur as trimming—it is strikingly used on evening frocks of metallic laces.

From France come frocks stamped with the names of artists whose approval launches a new mode. And never were lovelier frocks than are in a certain group, also from France, of Georgette crepe and silk which are entirely made by hand. Priced from $50 to $250.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

The New Suits

Paradoxically the coat of the suit may be a cape, as is the one sketched in the center panel, over a complete frock. Striking innovations are suits with the new wrapped coats. Prices vary from $45 to $500.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

Silken Negligees

Crepe back satin in this supple weave must have been specially woven for the svelte lovely negligees of the new mode.

Their graceful draperies caught with tiny folds of the material. One sketched, $27.50.

16 DIE AS IRISH FACTIONS FIGHT IN COUNTY MAYO

BELFAST, Sept. 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—Ten republicans and six nationalists were shot dead in a fierce conflict at Erris, in northern County Mayo, when the republicans, retreating from Ballina, were attacked by government troops.

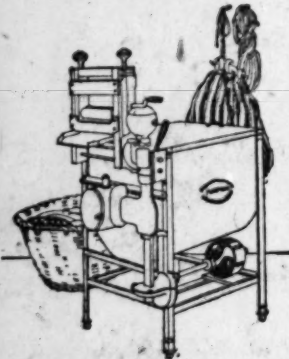

The military were at a disadvantage in that they had no machine guns, and they suffered severely in the earlier stages of the fight. Later their accurate marksmanship took a heavy toll from the republicans.

Captured General Escapes.
Brig. Gen. Neary, with a small party, was cut off from the main body and captured, but overpowered his guard and escaped. The commander of the troops narrowly avoided capture.

Three nationalists and one republican were killed and others wounded when a small party of troops was ambushed in County Tipperary Sunday morning.

A massed attack by the republicans on Rathkeale, County Limerick, resulted in the capture of the town.

THREE CONFESS FALSE STORY AT LUTZOW INQUEST

At a second inquest into the death of Christopher Lutzow of Maywood, to be held Sept. 27, Lutzow's three companions on the night he was killed will tell the new story of his death—a wild midnight ride, the four crazed with moonshine, and the boast, "You can't shake me off the running board"—and will admit they perjured themselves when they testified before. They are Heinrich Reinholdt of Melrose Park and John Lehmann and John Schlegel of Bellwood.

Assistant State's Attorney Frank Peska completed his taking of statements yesterday. The men swore at first that Lutzow put his head out of the car to look at a tire and struck a sign. Under Mr. Peska's grilling they confessed Lutzow climbed on the running board and dared the driver to shake him off. The driver ran the car into the rough at the side of the road and Lutzow was thrown against a tree, fracturing his skull.

ANNOUNCEMENT

These companies are not negotiating a settlement of the Shopmen's strike with the officers of the Shop Crafts organizations. An Association of Rock Island Shop Employees is being formed by those now in the service, with which all future negotiations will be conducted.

The men who were in the service July 10, 1922, will head the seniority list and those employed since July 10th will follow on that list in the order of their employment.

There are vacancies to be filled and our Officers will give preference to former employees who apply for work and whose record is satisfactory to the employing officers, and while such former employees cannot be given their old places on the seniority list, they will have restored full pass and pension privileges. As to such former employees returning to service before October 1, 1922, pension continuity of service will be computed without regard to any breaks on account of strikes.

Employment for those not now in the service will not result from waiting for some other person or persons to arrange for it, but will be given only on the personal application of the one who wants the work.

Finish the Unfinished Garage

Are you one of the many whose garage is not yet finished? Don't forget one of the really essential parts of its construction—the interior. You can easily protect your car from the cold of winter nights, and make your garage a cooler place to work in on hot summer afternoons. Richardson Wall Board will take care of that; for its strong, close fitting panels form a positive insulation against heat and cold.

RICHARDSON Wall Board

The Richardson Company has no fancy ideas as to the price you should pay for good wall board. Quantity production and the skill of over 50 years' manufacturing experience account for its extremely low price.

Richardson Wall Board is completely sized inside and out, and requires only a small amount of paint for a really fine finish. And the cost of board for the average one-car garage is under $25.00. You need not figure labor cost, for you will enjoy nailing these big panels in place yourself in some spare time.

Telephone the nearest dealer or roofer today, and he will gladly tell you how little it will cost to make this worthwhile improvement. And remember there is a wide variety of other uses for Richardson Wall Board.

CALL WAR DEBTS GREATEST BAR TO DISARMING

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
GENEVA, Sept. 19.—Reparations, inter-allied debts, and by inference foreign debts to the United States were brought up before the league of nations this afternoon. Lord Robert Cecil boldly injected the forbidden topic at the disarmament committee meeting, stating that a solution of these economic and financial questions were the crux of the world's troubles. M. Jouvenel of France sprang a surprise by accepting Lord Cecil's statement instead of insisting that reparations were sacred to the allies themselves. He agreed that a solution of the fiscal problem was necessary as a prelude for moral disarmament, which all admit must come before actual reduction of armaments is possible.

"The cause of political unrest is these inter-governmental debts," said Lord Cecil. "In the form of reparations obligations, relief credits, or allied debts." He referred to the United States, saying, "Since the problem is world wide, other nations besides those immediately involved must accept their share of the responsibility in its settlement." He also called on the neutrals to participate as their markets were destroyed and their industries idle during the crisis.

M. Jouvenel and Lord Cecil agreed to draft a guarantee pact which provides that if the pact is general and adhered to by everybody, disarmament will proceed the signing of this guarantee for security. If the pact is regional, the security agreement must precede disarmament and the reduction of armaments will be in proportion to the security afforded by the pact. Great Britain and France today, through their chief delegates, Lord Balfour and Leon Bourgeois, agreed to permit the league to interest itself in the near east question. A special committee notified Dr. Fridtjof Nansen that his resolution calling on the assembly to find a means to end hostilities may come before the assembly.

The action is regarded as the first indication that Downing street and Quai d'Orsay, neither one of which is willing to back down on their policies of supporting the Greeks and Turks, respectively, are willing to pass the buck to a third party, namely, the league, so its decision either way will not embarrass the two governments. This same procedure was adopted in partitioning Upper Silesia, over which Great Britain and France were deadlocked for months.

Better Compression —More Power

Because the cylinder walls in GMC Engines are removable sleeves of even thickness they do not get "out of round" with the pistons in actual engine operation.

This increases operating efficiency by maintaining perfect compression and producing more power with less fuel.

Moreover, in cases of damaged cylinder walls it ordinarily takes only two hours to replace a GMC cylinder. Where walls are integral with the cylinder block, it usually takes at least 24 hours.

STOP POLITICAL DONATIONS, HIS TAX EVILS CURE

Withdrawal of political campaign contributions by business men until congress evinces a disposition to cut down expenditure was urged as a remedy for onerous tax legislation yesterday by Col. Robert H. Montgomery of New York, an authority on tax matters.

Col. Montgomery, who is professor of accounting at Columbia university and a member of the American Bar association, spoke before the American Institute of Accountants at the Drake hotel.

Severely arraigning both congress and the average American business man, whom he termed a "dumbbell" in political matters, Col. Montgomery protested vigorously against a revision of the income tax law at the present time on the theory that it is liable to be more complex and burdensome than the ones now in force.

"If we want a holiday we had better leave the 1918 and 1921 laws alone," he said.

After charging congress with being incompetent and wasteful and composed of men dominated entirely by the quest for votes, he asked:

"What is the remedy for the inexcusable extravagance and waste? Is it a new tax law, with further penalties on success and thrift? It is often said that the remedy lies in the vote, but I doubt it. In my opinion, the remedy lies in the temporary withdrawal of campaign contributions by business men.

"My suggestion is that Republican and Democratic business men alike refuse to contribute a single dollar to either party unless and until legislation has been enacted—not promised—which means lower expenditures. Then we can have lower tax rates. After that, and not before, business men should demand a new tax law."

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like ointment.

He declared the average congressman has his vision "obscured by personal political fortunes rather than illumined by the economic effect of the laws."

"Commencing with the federal revenue act of 1913, all of our income tax laws have been deliberately aimed at successful industry," he said. "Congress has proceeded on the theory that all large profits are illegitimate. The most popular vote seeking word on the floor of congress is 'profiteer'. A 'profiteer' is a man who makes a profit—ergo, he is a crook and the profit must be extracted from him by a new tax law."

Why Teeth Discolor

Food and smoke stains lodge in film

A way has been found to beautify teeth, to make them whiter, cleaner, safer. Millions now employ it. You see the results wherever you look. Countless teeth glisten which once were dim.

These effects come by combating film. They are coming to careful people the world over, largely through dental advice. If you don't know this new-day method, we urge you to make this test.

Film makes teeth dingy

You can feel on your teeth a viscous film. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. The ordinary tooth paste cannot effectively combat it. So brushing teeth in old ways leaves much of that film intact.

Film absorbs stains from food, smoke, etc. Then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. That is why teeth lose their luster.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film. Under old brushing methods, those troubles constantly increased. Nearly everybody suffered.

Now ways to fight film

Dental science, after long research, has found two ways to fight film. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it. Thus the film is day by day combated, and without using harmful grit.

Able authorities have amply proved these methods. Now leading dentists everywhere advise them. Careful people of some fifty nations now enjoy the benefits.

A new-type tooth paste has been created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants are embodied in it for daily application.

Other essentials

Modern research also proves that other effects are essential, and Pepsodent brings them.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth, which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize the acids which cause decay.

Old-time tooth pastes, based on soap and chalk, decreased these vital factors. Pepsodent, with every use, gives manifold power to these tooth-protecting forces in the mouth.

It also polishes teeth so film less easily adheres.

In all these ways, Pepsodent is fast in inaugurating a new dental era.

Delightful results in a week

The results of Pepsodent are so quick and apparent that a very short test reveals them. One week will generally show effects amazing and delightful.

Those effects will be convincing. You will realize that you need them, and that your children need them. They mean that the great tooth enemies are now effectively combated.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Then decide by what you see and feel, by the results that old ways never brought. This is too important to neglect. Cut out the coupon now.

These strangers we have married

WE WIVES make up a very considerable proportion of the 1,800,000 folks who buy THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE every month. And if you ask us why we buy it, we should probably answer this—there never has been a magazine that revealed to us so much of the hidden thoughts and problems of our husbands.

THEY sit sometimes so quiet and preoccupied; what goes on inside their minds? Do they really think better and deeper than we? Or do they merely think differently?

"Do Men Have More Brains Than Women?" An interview with a famous psychologist, in the October AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

AT INTERVALS they desert us. "Business," they say, has "called them away." What do they do on these business trips? How much time do they waste? What do they gain?

"What I Get Out of My Trips to New York," by a small town business man, in the October AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

THIS "BUSINESS" that absorbs them—is it a game or a battle? Are our men, who are honest, held back because they are honest? Would they move forward faster if they were not so square?

"The Power of Frankness in Business," by a great executive, in the October AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

WHAT IS the fascination that keeps them at work long after they have earned enough? What are their real ambitions? What sort of ideals endure?

"I Picked My Goal At Ten—Reached It At Sixty," by a noted novelist, in the October AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

There are magazines edited for women and magazines edited for men. THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE is edited for people; it is not merely literature, it is LIFE. Men read it and discover themselves in its pages; we women read it and discover our men, who share our lives yet live such different lives—these strangers we have married.

POLITICAL EYES VIEW FALL VOTE FOR 1924 TIMBER

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

The congressional election on Nov. 7 is going to make or break a number of interesting potential candidates in both parties for the nomination for president of the United States. Here and there over the country one decries eight or ten more or less widely known Republicans and Democrats forging to the front as prospective eligibles for the leadership of their respective parties in the 1924 presidential election. Some of them have been to the front before and been retired temporarily to the background, while others are making for the first time in the fierce but agreeable light which beats upon the man "prominently mentioned" for the greatest political position in the world. Nearly all of them are candidates this fall in their respective states for various offices, national and state. Those who are elected will become actual eligibles for the presidential nomination, having demonstrated their ability to carry their states. Those who are from which it is difficult for an aspirant to the presidency to extricate himself, for national conventions are wont to give scant consideration to him who has failed to win the endorsement of his own state.

Many G. O. P. Leaders.

In the Republican party there are a number of leaders of national reputation who will be offered by their devoted admirers either as preferable to President Harding for the candidate of the party in 1924 or as a second choice in the event the president declines to be a candidate for renomination.

Of course it would be regarded an extraordinary circumstance if the President should spurn a second term, but there has been considerable gossip attributed to Mr. Harding, all to the effect that one term in the White House is enough for any man. The party chieftains, however, will exert their influence on the President to become a candidate for renomination, if he should appear reluctant, and they have no doubt that he will acquiesce. At the same time there is a good deal of insurgency welling up again in the party against the conservative attitude represented by Mr. Harding. Progressives, like Beveridge in Indiana and Pinchot in Pennsylvania, have defeated conservative standpat Republicans, giving rise to the suggestion that the Bull Moose party was not dead but only sleeping and that it failed in 1912 only because it was premature.

Like the 1912 Insurgency.

The appearance of some of the potential presidential candidates in the Republican party is part and parcel of this new insurgency, which might develop in the next year and a half to proportions reminiscent of the uprising against Taft in 1912. Then the party leaders might look around for a compromise, just as they did during the convention of 1912, a circumstance not generally known.

Albert J. Beveridge, who was a close adviser of Roosevelt in that convention, is Republican candidate for senator in Indiana and if elected he will become at once one of those leaders upon whom the progressive Republicans will pin their hopes. Having demonstrated more impressively than ever in the last few years his great capacity for statesmanship, Beveridge is likely to loom forth within the next year as a formidable contender for the Republican nomination for President.

La Follette and Third Party.

Wisconsin doubters will offer again the redoubtable La Follette, unbeatable in his own state up to date, for Republican standard bearer. That La Follette would be spurned as he has been repeatedly by Republican national conventions is a safe prediction, and then the interesting question would arise whether he would undertake to lead a third party embodying all the radicalism of the day, such as is not unlikely to try conclusions with the older parties in 1924.

One of the foremost advocates of the seaway is Gov. Henry Allen of Kansas, who proved himself a match for Miller in their famous debate on the subject and who also has won national repute as the author of the Kansas industrial court law. He is regarded as a prospective candidate for the senate in 1924, but the labor and capital issue may bring him to the fore as aspirant for the Republican nomination for President. Then there is Hiram Johnson of California, whose reflection to the senate is generally considered a forgone conclusion, and Senator Poindexter of Washington, both of whom figured in the 1920 convention. Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, Senator McCormick of Illinois, Secretary of State Hughes, Secretary of War Weeks, who has added the anti-prohibitionist to his large following, are others one hears mentioned by the politicians as possible entrants in the contest in the event that President Harding should decline renomination.

"Sonny" Gets Out of Cell by Habeas Corpus Route

William "Sonny" Dunn, arrested Monday for a bank robbery in Indianapolis, appeared yesterday before Judge Philip E. Sullivan in the Criminal court on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Sullivan fixed bonds at $7,500 and continued the hearing until Friday. Attorney James C. O'Brien, "Sonny's" counsel, said he would show that "Sonny" was not in Indianapolis at the time of the robbery.

DRY ENFORCER IN GARY ARRESTED AS BRIBE TAKER

Philip Ukman, special enforcement officer, who has been conducting a crusade in Gary for the last two months that has resulted in the issuance of more than 100 warrants for dry law violations, was arrested late last night just after it was charged he had accepted $200 to tear up a warrant for Daniel Rapach, one of the proprietors of the Central hotel.

Gary police say they have information that Ukman, employed as a scout by Bert Morgan, state enforcement officer, had planned a wholesale "shake-down" of dry law violators that he expected to net him more than $100,000 in the next sixty days. He operated, the police charge, with fake warrants to which he forged the name of United States Commissioner Charles Surridge of Hammond.

Earlier in the day City Judge William Dunn and Elias Lucas, an attorney, were arrested on a charge of conspiracy to "fix" liquor cases.

GARLAND STAHL, "JAKE" TO BALL WORLD, IS DEAD

Garland Stahl, president of the Washington Park National bank, who distinguished himself and became known as "Jake" Stahl he led the Boston American league team to a world's pennant, died yesterday in Los Angeles.

Word of the death of Mr. Stahl, who has been ill for several months, was received in a telegram by A. E. Olson, vice president and cashier of the bank. Mr. Stahl was born in Elkhart, Ill., April 13, 1878. In 1902, after his graduation from the University of Illinois, where he gained a reputation as a football, baseball, and track star, he joined the Boston American league team, playing first base. Later he was transferred to Washington, then to Chicago, and then to New York, only to return to Washington as playing manager. He served with the Senators for one season and then went back to the Boston team as manager, winning the league pennant and the world's series that year. That ended his career in the big leagues.

In 1908 Mr. Stahl married Miss Jennie Mahan, a classmate at the University of Illinois, and in the off season worked in the Washington Park National bank, of which his wife's father was founder and president. Later he succeeded Mr. Mahan as president of the institution.

Two years ago he went to the Pacific coast in an effort to regain his health, taking his wife and his 11 year old son with him. For a time it was hoped that his quest would be successful, but two months ago he suffered an attack of heart trouble and this hastened the end. His wife and son were with him when he died.

Friends Express Regret.

Former friends and co-workers of Mr. Stahl expressed regret over the passing of Mr. Stahl. Dan Johnson, president of the league, after writing condolences to the widow said that "Jake" Stahl was a "perfect character, a wonderful ball player, and a credit to the game." Secretary Harry Grabner of the Chicago American league team expressed regrets on behalf of the local club.

Mourn at University.

George Huff, director of athletics at the University of Illinois, who discovered the baseball talents of "Jake," was deeply affected at news of his death.

"We have had many good baseball players at Illinois," Mr. Huff said, "but I imagine that Jake is entitled to rank as our greatest baseball player. He was captain of the football team in 1902 and was a wonderful ground gainer when he was pulled back from guard to carry the ball. I deem it worthy of note that Jake left professional athletics and made a considerable success as a business man."

Carl Lundgren, coach of the Illinois nine, who pitched to Jake when the Illinois in 1903 made their famous eastern invasion; Assistant Football Coach Jus Lindgren, and other teammates expressed sorrow.

Stahl always was loyal to Illinois and despite his illness took thought to send his subscription to the stadium from his sickbed.

INVALID ENDS HIS LIFE.

Dependent because of a prolonged illness, Charles Boyer, 56 years old, 4 West Ontario street, committed suicide by taking gas yesterday.

RACHBAUER WILL STARTS NEW QUIZ ON DELLS KILLING

Discovery that Mrs. Pearl May Fein, over whom Felix Rachbauer, her partner in the Della roadhouse, was slain by Miss Maude Shirk, a sister of Mrs. Fein, was the chief beneficiary named in Rachbauer's will, started a new inquiry by Assistant State's Attorney Edward J. McCarthy yesterday. He said he will question the witnesses to the will, Edgar A. Rosler, 915 Hinman avenue, Evanston, and George B. Brennan, 1227 Lunt avenue.

"I'm determined to investigate thoroughly every angle of Rachbauer's career," said Mr. McCarthy. "It's possible conversation took place at the time of the signing of the will that may appear significant now."

Letters testamentary were issued by the probate court yesterday to Mrs. Fein, named as the executrix in the will. The document makes no reference to Rachbauer's sister, Theresa Rachbauer, of Austria, nor of his brother, Johann Rachbauer, Barana, Germany.

LEFT ON STREET CAR BRIDAL TRIP; SHE GETS DIVORCE

Married and deserted within two hours was the experience of Mrs. Lillian Stocks of West Pullman, who was granted a divorce yesterday from Harry F. Stocks by Judge Harry B. Miller.

"We were married on April 27, 1918," she testified, "and I spent my honeymoon on a Cottage Grove avenue street car. Harry said he was going to the front platform to smoke. I did not see him again for a year and then I met him getting off a car at 51st street and Cottage Grove avenue. I asked him if he ever intended to live with me, and he answered he might if he could have at least two nights a week with some of his other girls. I have not seen him since."

Ex-Saloonkeeper Freed on Charge of Murder

Walter E. Jordan, former saloonkeeper at 824 street and Racine avenue, was acquitted yesterday of the murder of Cornelius Van Laten in November, 1920. Attorney Lewis A. Hirschfeld, Jordan's counsel, pleaded self-defense.

Paris sanctions practically every size and shape, provided it is becoming, but deems the tricorne particularly smart. Color glows on many of the hats in this assemblage, in tones from amber to henna, and embracing the wood shades and brilliant blues. Black, too, is ultra modish, alone or with a touch of brilliant color. Many of the hats are direct copies, made in our own workroom, after models by foremost Parisian designers. One style at each price is sketched.

The hats are on sale both in the Salon pour la Jeunesse and in the women's hat department, fifth floor.

Women's new dinner frocks

Each model in the assemblage discloses charming individualities in its interpretation of late fashion motifs.

From so varied a collection you will find it easy to choose a frock to meet your particular requirements. Two are pictured—at the left, a black sequin robe over satin; at the right, a frock of chiffon velvet, available in black and evening shades, and trimmed with rhinestones.

Here's Luck!

Are you also, at moments, super-ambitious? Do you, too, go swashbuckling about, fairly bursting with braggadocio and boastful pride and then suddenly catch yourself looking about wildly to knock on wood? And feeling lack-lustre and lack-lustre, have you caught yourself wishing for a streak of luck? Well, here's luck! The luckiest, luckiest, luckiest charm, an amusing looking baby with a silver body and a carved wooden head with eyes walled after the fashion of the Ethiopians. His arms swing back and forth, hitting his wooden head with thumbs celestially inclined—for which reason he is called "Fumuso," undoubtedly from infants' patois. First floor.

The Door of a Thousand Dreams

Behind old Colonial doorways you can find good friends and true, waiting for you in some quiet moment to look them up. Book ends, cleverly enough, are made to look in miniature reproduction, like the old doorways of the Colonies, with all the old time graciousness and charm and urge to enter. Some are copies of New England doorways with the austere quaintness of fan-light and pillars wound about with roses as pink and heaven-bred and ambitious as a Puritan rose would be. The soft ivory and rose and green of these book ends make them especially lovely in a bedroom. $6 pair.

To the Ladies

Ah, Ladies! Never be down in the mouth. With a little wave of a magic wand you can brighten up the old Cupid's bow. You can be mistress of your fate and whether your lips are a cherry cherry, a scarlet rosebud, or a coral confection. You can have what Aphrodite would have raved over, and what Trojan Helen would have considered "more adorable" than anything in Ilum. The magic wand seems to be all of gold and lavender and rosebuds—but underneath it all it is an imported lip stick. And a powder box matches. Lip stick, 50c. Powder compact, 75c.

LINEMEN MAKE OR BREAK TEAM; DRILL 'EM HARD

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

"Give me a team which charges and blocks, one which follows the ball continually, and will win 90 per cent of my games."

This was the statement made by a prominent western football coach at a meeting held in Chicago recently. That mentor expressed the desire of every smart man who teaches football.

These three qualifications form a happy combination, and players who have been blessed with them are well known in football history.

In charging and blocking, followers of football should know that guards seldom come in bodily contact with guards of the opposing line. The same is true of the tackles.

Charging a Line Fundamental.

An offensive line protects to the outside of their opponents. It therefore will be readily seen that an offensive tackle will charge the defensive guard back or to either side, while the end on the same side of the line boxes the defensive tackle. The fundamental principle of line play is to protect to the inside. If the offensive linemen tried to play opposite their opponents, the backs would not get far in their attempts to advance the ball. Charging is one of the most important points of line play, offensively and defensively. On offense the forwards must charge to make holes, and on defense they must get the jump either to break through or charge an opponent into his own play. At the present time, coaches of all eleven are giving their line candidates plenty of instruction with the charging machine. They also are being taught to vary their charges. The standard which should change his style of charge is not a first rate lineman.

Follow the Ball.

Blocking goes hand in hand with charging. There are times when every football eleven must hold and block. This is especially true when the team tries a field goal. With the try for point after touchdown going to be attempted mostly by kick instead of a play, it will readily be seen how important it will be for the linemen to block and hold.

"Have a nose for the ball," is the preliminary stage of the season. In other words, the linemen are trying to impress upon the men the absolute necessity of following the ball. The danger point in the gridiron game is in the vicinity of the oval. The fact that a player is not called upon to do something important in the successful execution of formations, is no reason why he should not be where the ball is apt to be fumbled.

Always Chance for Fumble.

The best football team which ever graced a gridiron has been guilty of fumbling. Quick recovery of fumbles has changed the tide of numbers of hard fought games and on countless occasions eleven which were accorded only slim chances of winning have emerged from the battles on the long end of the score simply because they followed the ball.

Charging, blocking, and following the ball are the three great fundamental principles of football, which every smart coach is trying to impress upon his candidates at the present time, the preliminary stage of the gridiron season.

"PRO" GRID TEAMS PREPARE FOR BIG SEASON

Pro football players and their followers are preparing for a big season. With the opening of the collegiate and prep grid seasons, eleven that play on the prairies and those that are more fortunate in securing indoor grounds already have settled down to the task of reorganizing and drilling their squads.

Chargers, as last year, will be represented by two big teams in the major pro football circuit.

The Chicago Bears, which will be the name of the team that is made up of the greater part of the Deerslayers of last fall, will perform at Cub park, while on the south side Chris O'Brien will again have his Cardinal eleven of last year in the field and games will be played at Sox park.

Joe Sternaman and George Halas are the organizers and backers of the Bear eleven. Halas has announced that in addition to several of the old Staley gang, Laurie Walquist, Illinois; Larson and Garvey, former Notre Dame men; and Lafleur of Marquette have been signed. Of the Staley team are Halas, Trafford, Stinchcomb, Scott, Lanum, Pod Pearce, Smith, Blacklock, and Bolan will be back. Halas will act as coach.

The Cardinals will have an equally strong team, and the change of playing fields from Normal to Sox park is expected to increase the number of the team's followers. Under the rules of the big circuit, the squads must be out to eighteen players by Oct. 1, so the big teams will have to hustle.

BIG GRID SQUAD AT LAKE FOREST

Coch Ralph Jones has found an abundance of line material among the new candidates for positions on the Lake Forest academy football team, but backfield material has been slow to develop. Although composed almost entirely of green players, the squad begins to show signs of the making of a strong team. Black, a former Joliet High star, is being tried at quarterback. Left is the only old backfield man left from last year's team. The schedule for the academy is as follows:

Sept. 20, open; Oct. 7, Lake Forest at Lake Forest; Oct. 13, Lake Forest at Lake Forest; Oct. 20, Lake Forest at Lake Forest; Oct. 27, Lake Forest at Lake Forest; Nov. 3, Lake Forest at Lake Forest; Nov. 10, Lake Forest at Lake Forest; Nov. 17, Lake Forest at Lake Forest; Nov. 24, Lake Forest at Lake Forest; Dec. 1, Lake Forest at Lake Forest.

HIGH SCHOOLERS CHARGE WITH PEP

Photo shows the heavy rush line of Lindblom High swinging into action, with the ball carrier getting up steam behind the chargers. Lindblom's huskies, who were runnersup in the city high school league football race last fall, are drilling with determination to "break through" to their first league title this season.

WEINECKE TO REJOIN PURPLE SQUAD SOON

Northwestern football fans were encouraged yesterday when they learned that Bob Weinecke, captain of the freshmen eleven last year, did not have blood poisoning, but that a couple of bolts had kept him from practice.

He will rejoin the squad in a few days. Despite the heavy rain that soaked the players, made the field muddy and the ball slippery, Coach Thistlethwaite drove his candidates through a long practice session yesterday.

Johnny Paver, varsity half back last year, will not be available for the squad this season, according to word received yesterday. He injured his hip while playing summer ball.

Only sixteen men reported for practice yesterday morning. Forty-six reported in the afternoon. For three hours the squad was kept busy learning to charge, tackle, and carry the ball.

MAROONS TRY PASSES

After a morning of quizzing on the rules, Director Staggs took the Chicago football men out into the rain yesterday afternoon and kept them busy until the usual quitting time.

The "Old Man" seems to be figuring very largely on the use of forward pass plays this year, for he spent most of the afternoon working the players in tossing and receiving. Elmer Hoff, Turre Hays, Ind., guard, is doing well in practice, both in running the team and in passing.

AT OHIO STATE.

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Picking a lineup for the first scrimmage of the year, Coach Wiley selected men unfamiliar to local football followers. With so many new players, the coach was forced to make a new forward wall must be formed. The early selection was composed of Blinn and Fiedler, ends; Young and Anderson, tackles; Piskley and Loner, guards; and Paulsen, center.

AT PURDUE.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Coach Lafleur expects to scrimmage the Purdue football squad within a few days. The first cut was made tonight, fifteen men being dropped. This leaves the coach with a squad of fifty-one. Sixty freshmen turned out for their first practice tonight, out of a total of 125 that cut last night.

AT INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Training of the Indiana football team continued a high speed this morning as Coach Pat Herron sent his men through a long, hard practice session. The team was in excellent condition today, and with the arrival of the new players, many more are expected to be in the lineups for the season.

Four Teams Shatter Rifle Record at Camp Perry

Camp Perry, O., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Participating in the national rifle and pistol matches here again today shattered records in the Harrier trophy match, when four teams broke the previous record score of 1,782. The Massachusetts national guard team won the match with a total of 1,782 and the United States marine corps team was second with 1,762.

MAROON GRIDDERS WIN.

The Maroon Maroon football team defeated the Orange Maroon team in a game Sunday, Sept. 15, at the Maroon Maroon stadium, 15 to 0. The Maroon Maroon team was victorious in a game Sunday, Sept. 15, at the Maroon Maroon stadium, 15 to 0.

URBANA, Ill., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Bob Zupke's eager young squad battled each other tonight while the coach studied their performance with an eagle eye as the two teams tugged away at football. Clarence Drayner, the lanky young tackle of 1921, reported for scrimmage despite a scholastic ban. Zupke is not counting on him, however, and will devote his time to developing new tackles. Stan Hill, hardener thrower on the track team, who has been a squad member for two years, suddenly took the center of the stage tonight by his sensational plunging.

LINDBLOM HIGH HAS SQUAD OF PROMISE

Look out for Lindblom in the Chicago high school football league. It isn't revealing any secret to say that Lindblom's Division A eleven will be a most formidable contender for the Chicago prep grid title.

Probably no local scholastic eleven is as far advanced in its training as Lindblom's. Coach E. L. Moore, one of the most efficient of Chicago high school mentors, had his first squad picked before the start of practice.

Eleven Vets Back.

There are eleven letter men from last season, a line that will average not under 170, a heavy and fast backfield, and veteran ends.

Fast Forward Wall.

Lindblom will be captained this fall by Fred Bruce, steady, brassy tackle. At the other tackle position is William Varley weighing 265 pounds (very little of it fat). John Baumber, center, and Lawrence De Koker, guard, are the remaining letter men. It should be easy to fill any gaps in the forward wall with Charles Hickman, 175 pound basketball center, and Harold O'Connell, another husky, veteran tackle.

Prep football followers will recall the brilliant play for the last two seasons of Leon Trimble, 1921 captain.

Trimble is playing again this season, thereby assuring Lindblom of one of the best wingmen in the city. On the other flank is Kenneth Rouse, a first year man, who has practically won a regular place. Fred Youell, Douglas Roberts, and Sam McDowell, first year men, are other end aspirants.

Play Terre Haute Saturday.

Blessed with a versatile backfield, Lindblom should be enabled to successfully use the "triple" threat.

Hardened by several days of scrimmage, Lindblom should be in fine fettle when it opens its season Saturday with Terre Haute High at Terre Haute.

Moore's men play at Deerfield, Sept. 30. Oct. 7 is an open date, and on Oct. 14 Lindblom opens the Chicago league season with Englewood.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

SEPTEMBER JOBS FOR GARDENER.

WITHERING up of the vegetables and flowers signals the end of the gardener's year so far as this season's crop is concerned, but his work does not end with that. There are dozens of jobs to be done in the next few weeks.

Flowers are to be planted and plants are to be protected against early frosts.

New lawns are to be made and old ones renewed. This is a good time of the year to give the lawn a good dressing of fertilizer and now seed to cover up the bare spots.

Many plants that live the year round in the open garden must be mulched if they are to be carried safely through the winter and practically all trees and shrubs in this locality are benefited by a mulch.

City gardeners have learned that they can cut down their fertilizer costs every year by saving the leaves that fall on their lawns. Raked and piled up as soon as they fall and composted, leaves will be ready for use at planting time next spring. It is not safe to rake up leaves in the gutters along the streets. Leaves soaked up the oil and waste that comes from automobiles and is considered injurious to plants where it is mixed in the garden soil. Vines, stalks and leaves should be composted along with the leaves.

BETHANY COLLEGE GRID MEN OFFER BLOOD TO INJURED QUARTERBACK

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 19.—A dozen members of the Bethany college football squad were ready today to participate in blood transfusion operations for their teammate, Kenneth Belight, who suffered internal injuries in a scrimmage last Friday.

Belight was brought to a local hospital from Bethany. The first transfusion operation was performed yesterday and it was announced this morning that the condition of the young quarterback was slightly improved.

Theodore Olney, a student, not a member of the eleven, was chosen for the initial transfusion.

Heading the list of backfield men is Walter Marks, all-Chicago half back in 1921. Ralph Bodin, Jimmy Bly, and Lester Helden, all veterans, and William Freckleton and Douglas Roberts, first year youngsters, are working for the other half back job. Robert Conley, another letter winner, is the probable choice for full back. Quarter back will be filled by an experienced man, either Harry Caruso or Gunner Gregersen, both of whom worked there last year and won "L" monograms.

MOLLA FACING STRONG RIVAL IN MARY K. BROWNE

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, women's national tennis champion, will meet Miss Mary K. Browne of California, former women's champion, in one of the feature matches of the east-west series, to be contested at the West Side Tennis club, Forest Hills, on Friday.

Miss Browne, who has decided to make her home in this city, reached Philadelphia in time to see the men's championship final and to play in an exhibition mixed doubles match, paired with Manuel Alonso against Miss Helen Wills and Vincent Richards. Miss Browne has been practicing every day at the West Side club here for her meeting with Mrs. Mallory.

She has shown great control of her versatile game, and on the basis of her practice performance should give Mrs. Mallory even sterner opposition than she provided last year in the deciding match of the women's national championship singles.

T. Norris Williams of Boston, will oppose Robert Kinsey of San Francisco, while Watson M. Washburn of New York will meet Howard Kinsey in the first day's singles of the east-west meet. The doubles match will bring together William T. Tilden and Vincent Richards, the national champions, representing the east, and William M. Johnston and Willis B. Davis of the western team.

Episcopalians Defend Private U. S. Schools; Religion Is Necessary

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—A protest against legislation which seeks to eliminate parochial schools; the offering of special prayer for the families of forty-seven miners who died in the Argonaut mine, Jackson, Cal., and an appeal for the better protection of miners; the condemnation of gambling devices for any purpose, including church philanthropies, to arouse the nation to act in putting a stop to the murder of Christians by the forces of the underworld today of the Episcopal convention.

The resolutions concerning the parochial school question, which were adopted, were introduced by the Rev. A. W. Kincaid, Baltimore, deprecating attacks on private and parochial schools, and after expressing approval of the public school system, continue:

"Resolved that the general convention expresses its abiding conviction that instruction in religion is an essential element in all true education, that schools have an indispensable part in our education and that the church should be active in the maintenance of such schools."

"That this general convention goes on record as deprecating and opposing any and all movements seeking to secure legislation, having as its natural result the closing of parochial schools, the destruction of the church schools of our land."

The resolution on gambling, introduced by the Rev. James E. Freeman, Washington, D. C., which was adopted, condemned gambling in general as "reprehensible and unworthy" and said that concerning the church:

"We, the representatives of the Protestant Episcopal church, go on record as condemning the use of all forms of gambling for philanthropic purposes as contrary to God's law and the law of the church."

The action in regard to the Turkish atrocities was introduced into the house of bishops by Bishop W. T. Manning of New York and by the Rev. Dr. E. M. Stiles of New York into the house of deputies.

The Rt. Rev. Rennie McInnes, Anglican bishop of Jerusalem, addressed both the house of bishops and the house of deputies on conditions in Palestine, in which he declared the Zionist movement had aroused deep sympathy on the part of the Jews resident in the holy land.

Kind and Thoughtful.

While staying in the country it was some time before I learned who was who among my neighbors.

One day I gathered a huge basket of luscious blackberries.

Knowing there was an old couple living nearby, I thought how much they might enjoy some of the berries—so I took them a nice basket.

Imagine my embarrassing moment when I learned that the old couple on their berry patch and had presented them with their own fruit.

Caught with Evidence.

Mine was a long time ago, but you can readily see why I still remember it. I was chaperoning two debutantes—my daughter and my niece—at an elaborate banquet and ball given in honor of Prince Henry, when he was here.

After the banquet the girls rushed over to where I was sitting to deposit their handkerchiefs in my lap before dancing. A little later I arose from my seat to greet some people who were being introduced to me when to my dismay two spoons fell out of my lap on the bare floor with a great clatter.

The girls had the souvenir gathering habit, but I was too confused for explanations.

A Suit for the Girl of from Eight to Fourteen.

by Crime Lover

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondent.]—To the slim little girl of from 8 to 14 there is nothing more becoming than one of those loose, unbelted jackets which the French call paletots. This is the type of jacket which is incorporated in a number of the fall suit models for the girl of this age. We find it here represented in a suit of and colored Poirat swill trimmed with straps of self-material terminating in points of velvet in a shade of deep brown. The round buttons are of bronze. For the dressup suit of this small size there are many adorable little repetitions of the jacket style which are carried out in exactly the same fabrics as those which go into adult versions. Added from these wrinkled or bloused coats worn with plain fabric skirt, we find many adorable models in the plain and ribbed velours that are emphasized in all grown-up collections.

STOCKS RECOVER, AS 'WAR MARKET' LASTS ONLY A DAY

The tabulation of daily averages of groups of railroad and industrial stocks hereafter will be found at the top of the table headed "New York Stock Transactions."

The New York Times.

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special].—So far as today's movement of prices was evidence, the "war market" of yesterday was as brief a demonstration as was that of the various other unsettled Mondays of the summer time. Whether this singular series of faint hearted markets to begin a week is to be explained by the effect on financial nerves of the dispatches from the front, or by the effect on the market of the Sunday newspapers, or whether professional speculators for the decline selected the first business day by way of testing the possibilities of an "unsettled week," it might be difficult to say.

Today's matter of fact recovery in the stock market, in the bond market, and in foreign exchange rates was not responsible to a change in the character of the news; it merely seemed to indicate as did the similar prompt recovery from each previous day of declining prices, that financial judgment had considered the situation and refused to take alarm. Prices on the stock exchange did not regain all of yesterday's losses, but the upward reaction was sufficiently emphasized and the entire market shared in it. The character of the day's market indicated plainly the extent to which the source of Monday's selling was speculative.

Some of the foreign securities joined in today's recovery on the market for investment bonds, but neither the French nor the United Kingdom bonds made any appreciable gain. In domestic issues Liberty bonds were generally firm and slightly higher than at the preceding closing. Rails were strong. Today's recovery in foreign exchange, which was in some ways the more interesting movement, carried sterling back to Saturday's figure and francs to the highest closing rate in a week. Even Berlin held steady at fair advance from its recent low point.

FINANCIAL NOTES

The copper stocks as a group again attracted attention today while the stocks advanced with the rest of the market, their price was considered the more significant because of the fact that they sold off only fractionally Monday when the balance of the stocks broke sharply. The exception of Utah Copper the gains reported were mostly fractional, but one or two issues established new high records for the year among the lower priced shares.

Reaction of the Northern Pacific railway to take action on the quarterly dividend in the capital stock today. According to confidential sources, it was asserted that today more than the regular quarterly payment of $1.25 a share could be expected.

The Kansas City Southern railway report shows gross revenue of $1,737,569, a decrease of $154,573 compared with the same month last year. Operating income totaled $335,083, a reduction of $169,624.

PREDICT BOOM IN SOUTH CENTRAL REALTY VALUES

BY AL CHASE.

If only a small percentage of the predictions made yesterday by South Central realty association enthusiasts at their luncheon at the Lexington hotel come true, the territory between the lake and the river and from Roosevelt to 25th street in for a tremendous boom.

Frederick S. Oliver, of Oliver & Co., outlined the general situation and the improvements under way and contemplated, practically all of which pass through the central district.

He stated that the extension of Grand boulevard from 35th street north to 23d street and across the Illinois Central tracks to Grant park would be completed in twelve or fifteen months.

Most of the filling in the investor to the south central district by 24th street, which means the eastern fork of Grand boulevard can be built across it almost at once.

New Mart West of State.

Mr. Oliver predicted that the South Water street market would be west of State, somewhere between 15th and 23d.

"The south central district is the only section of Chicago which has laid dormant for ten or more years," he said.

"Now is the time for the wise investor to buy here. There have been many big improvements made recently and a long list of building projects are under way and contemplated."

Paul H. McCall, vice president of the association, told most about the street improvements and the policies of the south central body.

Tells of Building Projects.

Lawrence Whiting, president of the Equitable Trust company, added a few touches of color to the rainbow hovering over the south central district by telling of several big building projects under way and contemplated. George F. Hilt of the Bowles Realty company spoke briefly about real estate values, agreeing with Mr. Oliver that property was as cheap as it ever would be in the district. C. E. Gamblin, president of the Marmion-Chicago company and a vice president of the association, presided at the luncheon.

Joseph A. Harris of Oak Park has bought the leasehold and three story Barry block at the southwest corner of Madison and Oakley boulevard, 181st, from Miss Helen Culver of Lake Forest, through Charles Hilt Ewing, her representative, for $45,000. Frank H. June of Mr. Ewing's office is the broker. The ninety-nine year lease has fifty-seven years yet to run.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Political news from abroad was not of a character to induce any material buying of wheat and the market reversed its action of the previous day and closed with net losses of 1 1/2¢ to 1 3/4¢. Corn was unsettled and 1/4¢ higher to 1/2¢ lower, the latter on May. Oats finished unchanged to 1/4¢ lower and rye off 1/4¢ to 1/2¢.

Foreigners failed to enthrone over the war scare and Liverpool closed 1/4¢ higher to 1/2¢ lower, practically ignoring the upturn in America the previous day. No export demand of consequence developed despite the decline in futures during the day and aggregate sales were small.

At the same time local traders were not disposed to press the sell side freely and on the break to 11.64 for December and again at 11.64 1/2 for May was good buying on resting orders.

Winnipeg, which led the advance the previous day, showed more weakness than other markets, dropping 1/4¢ to 11.64 with October leading and the bulk of the news from the Canadian northwest was of a depressing character. Weather conditions there were favorable and country deliveries were estimated as aggregating around 3,500,000 bu. per day.

Premiums on hard winter here were 1/4¢ lower and at Winnipeg 1/4¢ lower.

Local Corn Traders Short.

A sale of 200,000 bu. cash corn made to go to stores for delivery on September contracts resulted in many of the local traders going short the deferred deliveries, only to find that offerings were limited when they tried to cover and made the close within a fraction of the top. There was an active demand for cash corn from exporters and the report that a plan had been arranged whereby grain could be moved from Buffalo had some effect on sentiment. But-fall offerings were not large and demand in the sample market fair.

September oats broke 1/4¢ under to close of the previous day to 11.60 on scattered selling early, only to recover the loss toward the last on a renewal of short-covering. Deferred deliveries were easier with other grains early. Cash demand was fair and the basis in the sample market slightly firmer as compared with futures.

So export business of consequence was in evidence in rye and with northwest pressure a decline was easily attained. The best buying was by houses with seaboard connections. The two northwestern markets had 215 cars.

Provisions Drop Lower.

Weakness in grains and hogs had a depressing effect on provisions and lard closed 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ lower. Packers supported the nearby deliveries of lard on the break. Export demand is disappointing. Deliveries on September contracts aggregated 200,000 lbs. lard and 150,000 lbs. ribs. Prices follow:

Hog values tumbled 15¢ to 20¢, with instances of more decline on heavy packing grades, compared with Monday's best time. Packers took advantage of too liberal offerings and made a bad finish to the trade, with 10,000 estimated in the pens. Some of the lightest hogs were more plentiful. Price range was narrower with the top at $9.90 and the general $8.85, the narrowest spread in over two months.

Notwithstanding the wet fences, lamb values yesterday ruled strong to 20¢ higher on a comparatively slow session, which closed as good as any time of the day. Demand after mid session was urgent, with desirable natives and westerns topping at $14.25. Small receipts in night for today served as a strengthening factor late yesterday, and closing values reflected the day's advance. Montana 107 lb killing ewes brought $10.10.

Pictures Afford Opportunity for Character Analysis of Mustapha Kemal Pasha, Turkish Nationalist Leader

Mustapha Kemal Pasha, As a Soldier

Kemal Pasha, Statesman

MUSTAPHA KEMAL PASHA IN ROLE OF SHEIK.
The leader of the Turkish Nationalist army as he appears in the costume of the Arabians, who have been his faithful allies.

WHAT MUSTAPHA KEMAL PASHA'S PICTURES SHOW. The Turkish leader as soldier, statesman, and sheik: Under the central picture is a phenologist's study map of his head. The numerals indicate: 1. Unusual breadth between base of skull and tip of chin—strong will power and ambition. 2. Width of eyes—keen powers of observation. 3. Marked protuberances on either side of head—caution, wariness, forethought. 4. Upper border of eye considerably above line of ear—destructive propensity. 5. Width of jaw and prominent cheek bones—courage. 6. High forehead—power of generalship. 7. Rounded chin—sensuousness.
